Course information:

Medical English V is a compulsory course in the fifth year of the study of Medicine in English. It includes 20 hours of seminars (1 ECTS).

The aim of the course is to provide students with support in navigating through communicative and grammatical structures typical of medical language in speech and writing.

Course content: Critical reading of medical texts with accompanying exercises in reading comprehension and vocabulary; upgrading writing skills using British and American spelling; recognition of grammatically (in)correct sentences; writing short critical reviews on a given topic; individual work, pair work, research work. Students' progress is continuously monitored through short quizzes, shorter written assignments, and a final test. Students will receive constructive individual and group feedback on their progress. The course is considered passed after all written assignments have been completed (no later than the final seminar in week 10), the student participated in at least 70% of classes, and the final test has been passed.

Learning outcomes:

• understand professional and scientific texts, identify key ideas and specific information

• distinguish and apply different language registers (formal/informal expressions)

• recognize grammatical and lexical structures typical of medical language in speech and writing

• apply acquired grammatical structures and medical terminology in written and oral expression

Course structure:

The course is organized through 20 hours of seminars. It is distributed continuously for 10 weeks.

List of assigned reading:

Handouts available on Merlin.

Dorland’s Illustrated Medical Dictionary, W.B. Saunders Company

Merriam-Webster online dictionary

List of optional reading:

Chabner, D.-E. 2017. The Language of Medicine. St. Louis, Missouri: Elsevier.

Books, e-books, articles, Internet pages and other sources relevant to the topic of the oral presentation and written assignments.

Curriculum:

Student obligations:

Students must regularly attend seminars (minimum 70%), actively participate in classes, submit all written assignments on time, and pass the final test. If a student cannot complete a particular assignment by the agreed deadline and/or take the final test for justified reasons (e.g., in case of illness), they must inform the instructor at least 1 day in advance.

Exam (exam taking, description of the written/oral/practical part of the exam, point distribution, grading criteria):

The course ends with a test on a pass/fail basis, which is taken on the last day of the course. After completing all course requirements and participating in at least 70% of seminars, the students will receive a passing grade.

The test is considered passed when at least 50% of the total number of points is obtained.

Other notes (related to the course) important for students:

All updates, weekly class materials, and test results will be available to students on the Merlin platform.
In order to promote academic integrity, all written work will be checked in the Turnitin plagiarism system and the AI Content Detector software to check for AI-generated content.
